

Reginald West.

PICTURESQUE DORSET.
PUDDLETOWN VILLAGE

LL8063

Pictorial Counties DORSET. Series I.

Raphael Tuck & Sons
"OILETTE"
[Regd.] Postcard 7763.
AND PUBLISHERS TO THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING & QUEEN.

By Appointment.

CARTE POSTALE

TUCK'S POST CARD

POSTKARTE

Puddletown is a large village in central Dorset which is possibly better known to fame as the "Weatherbury" of Thomas Hardy's Wessex novels. Among its chief attractions is a fine old church, containing some interesting memorials to the Martin family, the mansion of Athelhampton, which is an interesting historical building, and Weatherbury Castle, an ancient entrenchment surmounting a fir-clad hill.

(FOR ADDRESS ONLY.)

Printed in England.

CTPA12 9